THE COMMUNITY OF ST. MARTHA

The Community of St. Martha came into being to further the spiritual growth of women of the Episcopal Church. In order to accomplish this purpose, two things have developed. First, a group of women who desired to live together in Christian Fellowship, in order to know and serve our Lord more completely, began living as a resident community in the summer of 1957. We have continued to work at our chosen occupations, but we live together under a Rule of Life. As our time and talents allow, we give of our services to those who come to the Community House.

The second aspect of the Community is the opening of the residence to non-resident women who come to us in order to grow in their understanding of our Lord and of His Church. For such women, the House offers Quiet Days, a religious library, courses of study and discussion groups. Those who wish may be more closely associated with the Community.

The Community of St. Martha has the spiritual blessing of the Bishop of Milwaukee, the Rt. Rev. Donald H. V. Hallock, who appointed as our Chaplain, the Reverend Thomas Withey, Rector of St. Andrew's Church, Kenosha, Wisconsin.

The Community is not an official organization of the diocese and does not expect to request funds from any organizations in the parishes. The Community does want both clergy and laity to know of its work and plans, and would ask the prayers and cooperation of all who believe that God wills such a Community to help meet the spiritual needs of present day society.
